SPARTAN ELEVEN HOSTS SANTA BARBARA TONIGHT IN STADIUM AT 8 P. M.

By CARL UNDERWOOD

San Jose State returns to Spartan Stadium tonight where they meet the Santa Barbara grid team at 8 p.m. before a crowd which should approach 10,000. The Spartans, who are gunning for their second CCAA win, rate a big edge over the visitors on paper, but may run into a much tougher Gaucho than the one seen in previous games. Victors in but two out of five starts, Santa Barbara hopes to make the most of its exceptionally speedy backfield, which is made up principally of track stars. "If Santa Barbara makes a couple of quick scores, which they are definitely capable of, we'll have a tough fight making up the difference," Spartan Head Coach Bill Hubbard said yesterday.

Gauchos are especially potent on returning kickoffs and have scored on the opening play of the game several times this year. Especially dangerous are backs Sam Cathart, all-CCAA choice in 1947, and Mel Patton, both of whom have toured 100 yards in less than 10 seconds on a track oval.

GAUCHOS BOAST SPEED

Gaucho Head Coach Stan Williamson, one of the all-time great USC centers and all-Coast selection in 1930 and '31, has a whole host of speed burners to throw at San Jose. The Santa Barbara forward wall, however, lacks real strength, which will probably prove its undoing.

All three Spartan coaches hope the Golden Raiders are not looking ahead to the College of Pacific titanic next week. The local squad, most of whom were around last year when overconfidence was all too evident before the COP game, realize they cannot afford to regard any team too lightly again, according to Coach Hubbard.

The Spartans are physically sound, with the exception of Joe Juliano, starting left guard, and Al Cemintina, sophomore left half who jumped from the third to first team recently. Juliano is still bothered by a knee injury he received against Cal Poly, and will not be used unless it is absolutely necessary, according to Hubbard.

CEMINTINA PROBABLY OUT

Cemintina will also not see action unless he is sorely needed although his elbow injury is very slight. Dale Fisher, substitute guard, is the lone Spartan who is definitely out. Fisher dislocated his shoulder in a practice session Monday, and will be out of the lineup for at least two weeks.

Two San Jose players who have occupied the bench most of the season but should help the Spartan cause tonight, are Left Half Steve O'Meara and Right Half Vince Sempronio. O'Meara, a 9.9 century sprinter, showed up very well against Cal Poly, and will add speed to the backfield. Sempronio also ripped off plenty of yardage in the Mustang clash, and will back up starter Fred Mangini and Harry Russell.

U. N. Broadcast Set

A world-wide United Nations broadcast from Paris may be heard by students this morning at 11 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium. Students may be excused from class by request at that time if they wish to attend, President T. W. MacQuarrie said yesterday.

Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction for the State of California, has issued a request to all state high school and junior college administrators that students desiring such be allowed to hear the broadcast.

NEW CARD STUNTS WILL BE FLIPPED AT GAUCHO GAME

Card stunts will be featured during the half time of the Santa Barbara game tonight. Walt Jenvey, who worked with Al Raffaelli on the stunts last year, designed and organized the stunts for this game.

Included in the series of nine stunts will be a "Gaucho," a "Spartan," a tribute to the Community Chest drive, and for the last one, something "extra special," promises Jenvey.

"Don't State students want rallies," said Sal Farrantio, yell leader, during last night's rally. "Do they expect the Rally committee to work hard for a rally that has a turnout of only 150 students?" he added.

The song girls, the yell leaders, and the band were all there, even though the band was locked out of the band room, and couldn't get their instruments.

"Special co-operation is asked of all rooters in section 'J' in order to achieve the perfection necessary for the best effect," requests Jenvey.

Bob Johnson, who is to direct the card stunts, will explain the use of the cards before the game. Cards will be distributed just before the half.

Also to be included in the half time activities will be the band, according to Armen Hanzad. It will go through several formations, including a Spartan head, worked out by Fran Wildman, director of formations, he said.

Pauline Deardorff and Dolores Arnold will be majorettes for this game, marking the first time in several years that more than one majorette will be used, Hanzad concluded.

STATE'S FISCAL BUDGET OKAYED

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21 (UP)—The State Department of Education today submitted for finance department approval a 1949-50 budget request calling for an increase of $2,080,552 to operate State colleges.

The total amount requested to support the eight colleges during the next fiscal year was $10,393,508—an increase of 25 per cent over the current budget. In addition the colleges asked for a capital outlay of $1,540,632 to improve buildings and grounds.

The major part of the operating increase, the educators said, was due to expected increases in salaries of present employees and salaries for some 286 proposed new teachers and other employees. Other increases were anticipated in operating expenses and for new equipment.

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie Awarded By Group For Establishing SJS Police Courses

By CARL HOLMBERG

At a banquet last night Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, received the Key of Honor from Lambda Alpha Epsilon, national law enforcement fraternity.

The surprise was presented to Dr. MacQuarrie at a dinner given in the Italian Restaurant, San Augustine street, San Jose.

The award was made in appreciation of Dr. MacQuarrie's initiative in establishing the first program for police study on a collegiate level. As a result of his efforts, police science and criminology are now accepted courses of study in many colleges and universities throughout the country.

On behalf of the fraternity and the law enforcement profession as a whole, Norman Ansley, president of Gamma chapter, presented the award to Dr. MacQuarrie.

AIM FOR PROFESSIONAL STANDING

Lambda Alpha Epsilon is an organization of graduates and outstanding students of recognized police schools and courses. The fraternity's aims are to develop professionalized standing for the law enforcement field, to foster and encourage pre-and in-service training, and to exchange the latest techniques and methods in police science as they are evolved through the organization.

Only three previous awards of the Key of Honor have been made; their recipients are J. Edgar Hoover, Governor Earl Warren (when he was Attorney General of California), and August Vollmer, former chief of police in Berkeley and president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Norman Ansley, president of the Gamma chapter, opened the ceremony with a talk on the principles and activities of LAE. He included the program of the Gamma chapter for the coming year.

OFFICIALS REPORT ACTIVITIES

Speakers for the evening were Charles E. Grant, president of the Alpha chapter in Berkeley, who spoke on activities in the East Bay area; Fred Fitzgerald, director of San Francisco City college's police school, who outlined the program instituted there; and Willard E. Schmidt, SJS police school head, who described Dr. MacQuarrie's aid as setting a precedent in collegiate education. Following the acceptance speech by Dr. MacQuarrie, County Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle and City Chief of Police Ray Blackmore gave congratulatory speeches.

Present as guests of honor were Louis Wine, resident agent of the FBI, and Attorney Chesley Douglas, member of the Board of Education and instructor in law at SJS.

POST-GAME HOP IN GYM TONITE

Students will dance to music "off the record" at an after-game dance sponsored by the senior class in the Men's gym this evening, according to Chairman Helen Westerberg.

Dancing begins immediately following the Santa Barbara football game, and continues until 1 a.m. Admission charge will be 25 cents per person, she said.

COP Train Trip Plans Get Committee OK; Handed To Deans

By BOB BODEN

Plans for the train trip to the College of Pacific football game next week were approved by the College Life committee yesterday afternoon. Meeting in special session with Al Raffaelli, Rally committee chairman, details of the excursion were completed. The College Life committee is passing the detailed plan on to the Deans committee, head by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, for final approval, recommending it as meeting all requirements.

It was indicated that at no time was any member of the committee against the train trip. Their only interest was to be able to recommend a plan that would meet administration approval.

AWAIT FINAL WORD

If full administration approval is given, tickets probably will go on sale Monday, according to Raffaelli.

At present a number of faculty members have been lined up to supervise the train. It was pointed out that they will have full administration backing to enforce discipline, if that should become necessary.

Looking toward some unforeseen emergency, two trained nurses will be hired to accompany the party. Student assistance will be sought to aid smooth operation of the plan in every way possible.

At the time tickets are purchased, arrangements will be made for transportation from the S.P. station in San Jose when the train returns at about 4 a.m. Students are urged to make their own plans if possible, but if in doubt let the committee know.

TO PROVIDE LUNCHES

Plans have been made to provide a limited number of box lunches to be sold on the train. Soft drinks also will be available. Coaches are expected to be ready for loading at Lodi within a half hour after the game ends. Departure time has been set as 11:30 from Lodi, arriving in San Jose not later than 4 a.m. Sunday morning.

A complete set of rules have been agreed upon. These probably will be ready for publication in the Spartan Daily on Monday. Heading the list is a strict ban on alcoholic beverages and a clear statement of faculty powers.

GUESS TONIGHT'S GRID SCORE; WIN WEEK'S DOUGHNUT SUPPLY

A weekly supply of doughnuts awaits the first Spartan who correctly guesses the score of tonight's football game with Santa Barbara State college, according to George Link, Spartan Daily business manager.

The contest, open to all members of the student body, is sponsored this week by the Spartan Donut Shop, he said.

The first entry with the correct score (or the closest score) will be declared the winner, he emphasized. Entries must be turned in at the Spartan Daily office before 5 p.m. this afternoon.

Seward Chapman, last week's winner, won two dinners at the Dutch Mill, Link added.

ASSIGNMENT--TIGER

We, the student body of San Jose State, have a little assignment at Lodi, on the evening of Oct. 30. It will consist chiefly of giving our football team all the moral support we can when they meet Larry Siemerling's defending CCAA champions . . . virtually the same group of men who hung a 14 to 0 defeat on Bill Hubbard's warriors last year at Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans want this game like the very deuce. It not only will mean victory over the hated Tiger but the biggest step leading to the conference title will have been mounted.

When they trot out on the field to meet the likes of LeBarron, Heck, and Rhode, the Gold and White will be strictly on their own as far as physical action is concerned. Our little assignment will be to be in the stands in force . . . and in control of our faculties.

In the past the actual football game has been almost an anticlimax. Such things as campus raiding, and riotous drinking previous to the contest were in order. The football game, to many, was a mere formality. To these, the annual COP-State game presented an excellent opportunity to "blow their tops."

To support the team enmasse, we must have the train. It will insure the largest possible attendance of Spartan rooters at the game. The train can be chartered . . . but a controversy, arising from students' conduct on previous trips, has left the issue up in the air.

We need that train and we are capable of conducting ourselves befittingly while aboard it. The purpose of our trip is to back the team, let them know we are there.

For those who feel they must "get in the spirit of the thing" by the application of numerous coats of alcohol, it would be less expensive and more convenient if they would stick close to their radios, within easy stumbling distance of their beds, on the night of the game.

We have a little assignment on the night of Oct. 30. Will we fail our team, our school, and ourselves or will we get that train, ride it like men and women, see an SJS victory, and come home like true champions?

The football team has a little battle to win. We, the students, have a little confidence to win.

Assignment . . . Tiger.

OUT OF THE FOG

In partial answer to the above editorial . . . it looks as though we're going to get that train to Lodi for the Big Game with COP next Saturday.

But it's not going to be the rip-roaring debauché that past trips of the same kind have been. There has been a lot of argument, at times really heated argument on the matter.

The issue to my way of thinking, can be cut down to two major points: Firstly, if the trip is undertaken with the sanction of the administration, supervision should be taken into consideration. The reputation of the administration and the student body could be at stake, and as I repeat, past records have shown that a small minority of students, always present, are evidently not capable of staying within the bounds of normal good behavior. In this event you can hardly blame the school for wanting to protect itself.

Secondly, if a train was to be chartered by a group of students, as individuals, without the sanction of the administration, there would be no necessity of faculty supervision.

If a small group of students got out of order in the first instance, it would necessarily be the administration's responsibility to bring it to a halt. It would be their job.

If a group of students chartered a train individually, conduct would undoubtedly be under less restraint, but I doubt whether the Southern Pacific would allow the carousers to go so far as to wreck the place.

In either case violations of common decency would not be condoned.

The students selected to organize the trip have come to the conclusion that it should be made with the sanction of the college administration. You will have faculty supervision. Let's stand by the decision. The trip to the Big Game has been and always will be a heck of a lot of fun.—Dave Leonard.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Edited by BOB BODEN

With more people than ever before registered to vote in this big Nov. 2 election, political big guns are blasting in ever-increasing fury.

Looking toward a record vote, political observers believe that 50,000,000 or more citizens will go to the polls. So far the record was hit in 1940 when 49,815,312 persons cast ballots.

Only in New York were registrations termed the "poorest in many years." Governor Thomas E. Dewey may find this a decided disadvantage when election day rolls around. The general opinion that Dewey is a "clinch" to win may cut into his total vote.

Getting ready for his last great blast, Dewey yesterday conferred with party leaders. Wednesday, in one of his "non-political" speeches, the New York governor once again proclaimed "once and for all, there can be no isolation for America."

The third party of Henry A. Wallace received another backward shove as the Supreme court upheld, 6 to 3, the right of Illinois to bar the party from the ballot in that state.

Wallace based his plea for reversal on a challenge to the constitutionality of a 1935 amendment to the Illinois constitution requiring nominating petitions to be signed by at least 200 voters in each of 50 of the state's 102 counties.

This Sunday night, Eskey productions are presenting the great Ernst Lubitsch hit, "To Be Or Not To Be." The film is by far Jack Benny's best screen performance. Co-starring with him is Carole Lombard, this being her last film before her death. The story tells of a struggling theatrical group in Poland in the face of the oncoming Nazi assault in the late thirties. Laughs and fun-provoking situations run throughout the presentation handled uniquely by the famed "Lubitsch" touch.

This week will also see the start of the new Eskey serial. This season, it will be a killer-diller western starring Lon Chaney, Jr. The title: "Overland Mail." A Laurel and Hardy short and community sing round out the show.

PLEBE GRIDDEERS CLASH TODAY WITH DON FROSH IN SAN FRANCISCO DUEL

Moving turfward for the second time this season, San Jose State college football Spartababes will trek to San Francisco today to engage the University of San Francisco frosh on the St. Ignatius plot.

When kickoff time at 2:30 p.m. appears, the locals will face a combination who dropped a 14 to 13 encounter to the Santa Cruz Seahawks last week in their campaign inaugural.

The Spartans, who were tripped by Cal Poly last week, 21 to 12, are in better shape physically than they were for the lid-lifter. With the exception of Bill George, who suffered an arm injury, the entire squad is ready for action.

Mac Fuzzi, a 200-pound full-back, has been shifted to the guard spot. He is a good line-backer and offensive blocker. Jerry Gold will now be seen in action at tackle where his 230 pounds will strengthen the offense. Gold was formerly a center.

George Spadafore, Bob Summer, Val Donaire, and Lee Boyd are all in a heated struggle for the center slot left vacant by Gold. Anyone of these fellows could be with Coach Tom Cureton's starting pack this afternoon.

STEADY PERFORMANCE

The Dons, according to Coach Cureton, are a big team and will out-weight the local entry. They have two fine passers and runners, Peacock and Johnson, who are of the 200-pound variety. Speed is also present in the form of Freitas, who can move very fast in football togs.

Many flankers and spreads feature the opponents' T-formation, and they are reported to be a gambling ball club which will throw passes at any time, regardless of their position on the field.

LIKE A UNIT

"Our fellows looked more like a unit against Cal Poly than we anticipated," Cureton explained in discussing last Saturday's encounter. "Despite only 11 days practice, we could have beaten them with a few breaks. When our backs weren't pinned to the wall, the team opened up and marched for two scores," Cureton added.

Cureton felt that the entire contest would have been different if a fluke 31-yard run by the Mustangs on a blocked punt would not have happened. Tackle Jim O'Connor charged through to block a kick early in the game, but the pigskin bounced into the hands of a Cal Poly man who rambled to the Spartan 25-yard line. As a result, a few plays later the Colts blocked a San Jose punt, and scored two points on the safety.

Next week, the yearlings travel to Paso Robles for a clash with the San Luis Obispo All Stars, which will be their longest journey of the season.

California Aggies Next For Spartan Water Polo Septet

The newly crowned NAAU Junior Indoor water polo champs, the San Jose Spartans, will entertain the Cal Aggies, from Davis, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the Spartan pool.

Coach Charlie Walker will probably start the same seven, iron men who upset the appiecart at the recent NAAU tournament.

The boys from the California Ag school were beaten by the Indians from Stanford who were in turn trounced by the local boys in the finals of the NAAU tournament at San Francisco.

Keeler has scored five points a game in five games for a total points scored of 25. Gene Foley is next highest scorer with eight points, while almost the entire team has scored one or more goals.

SPORT SHORTS

The first intercollegiate football game to be played at night was held in 1891 when Amos Alonzo Stagg's Springfield Christians battled Yale in a midnight contest.

Numerals first appeared on jerseys in 1913 in a football game played between Chicago and Wisconsin.

OUT OF THE PAST

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The San Jose State Spartans playing an up and down game of football, lost their third start of the season when the Santa Barbara Roadrunners took them at Santa Barbara last Saturday afternoon 6-0.

Ed. Note: And they haven't beat us since.

TEN YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Tonight at 4:30 some 550 or 600 COP Tigers with stripes arrive in San Jose.

Ed. Note: And they came by train.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

There will be a lot of action next Monday when the Spartans come to grips with the Cherokees from Sequoia High School here at 4 p.m. The Spartans are looking eagerly toward this game. This is the first game of the season. The Spartans want to start the ball rolling by getting a victory over the Cherokees. They don't want to fool around much.

Ed. Note: In case you are interested this is an advance story on a water polo game which we won.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

San Jose State's freshmen water polo team travels to Sequoia High school this afternoon to meet a strong Cherokee team.

Ed. Note: What a difference five years make.

SJSC HAS EDGE

The Spartan-Gaucha series was started back in 1927 when Santa Barbara was a junior college with the nickname of Roadrunners. San Jose has taken all the games but one, but the games have usually been close.

GRID IRONIES

"Gridironies" was printed for the first time last week, and it contained a recapitulation of four years of varsity football at San Jose State college, from 1937 to 1940.

In this edition, we will review the 1941 campaign in a further attempt to enlighten Spartan readers about past pigskin performances.

Washington Square footballers, in the autumn of 1941, prepared for another swineskin session under the tutelage of Arkansas Ben Winkelman, who helmed the locals to 12 victories in 13 encounters the previous fall.

Destined to shine, while skipping over the sod against eleven opponents, were Fred Lindsey, Allan Hardisty, Chet Carsten, George Hearn, Aubrey Minter, Bill Rhyne, Bert Robinson and Frank Minini, all of whom monopolized the backfield positions.

STALWART LINEMEN

Making way for these stalwarts were linemen Ken Stanger, Wilbur Wool, Bob Hamill, who captain this juggernaut, Jim Wilson, Gray McConnell, Don Allen, Bill Donnelly, Ed Weinberg and Charlie Cook among others. It was through these men that only 1465 yards were accomplished by the first ten Spartan opponents, and as a result the Gold and White ranked eighth nationally in total defense. In addition, 62 first downs were all opposing elevens could grind out.

But the aerial defenders were not idle either, as Winkelman's charges allowed only 490 yards against them on passes to finish ninth in the nation. Enemy combinations tossed 122 overheads and connected on but 40.

Texas A&I, Utah State, San Diego, College of Pacific and Santa Barbara were neatly taken care of, but the Spartan machine slowed down on occasions, long enough to deadlock with Hardin Simmons, Fresno State and Fort Ord. Genuine stumbling blocks cropped up thrice when Nevada, University of San Francisco and Moffett Field tacked on defeats. The flyers were added to the State sked after the regularly designated tilts were history.

With a record of five wins, three losses, and three ties, the wandering griddeers from San Jose sailed in December for the land of poi and pineapple where they were scheduled to meet the University of Hawaii Rainbows in Honolulu on Dec. 13.

SHRINE GAME

The Spartans, who allowed 96 digits while counting 149 times in regular play, sat in the stands on Dec. 6 and witnessed Willamette university and the University of Hawaii play in the Shrine game. The locals were prepared to battle the Hawaiians on Dec. 3.

And then, on Dec. 7, 1941, came Japanese bombs, and the peace and quiet of Honolulu was converted to chaos. Coach Ben Winkelman and the team immediately offered their services. Seven players joined the Honolulu police department, and remained in the islands when the rest of the football squad departed.

On the return trip, Spartan turfmen helped with wounded persons being evacuated to the States. Later, Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, commended his group for their work, and the incident was published in the Official Football Guide for 1942 under the heading, Football Under Fire at Pearl Harbor by Ben Winkelman, head football coach, San Jose State college.

Flyers Issue Call For Air-Minded

Spartan Flyers, Inc., has issued a call for all sky-minded Spartans to fill its quota for the year, according to Howard Stepp, president.

Stepp, who has been elected president, said the Taylorcraft airplane owned by the organization has already seen a lot of action this quarter. Two full day cross-country flights have been made, and several pilots are working for higher CAA ratings.

Stepp also said tentative plans for an air meet have been made.

In recent elections, Stepp was elected president, Fred McElive, vice president; Lou Rich, secretary; and Ken Manchester, treasurer.

Bonicelli Heads Air Fraternity

Mario Bonicelli, president of Alpha Eta Rho, international aviation fraternity, last year, was re-elected to serve as president this year, according to Howard Stepp, president of Spartan Flyers, Inc.

Others elected were Al Reimer, vice president; Ken Raemish, secretary; and Bennie McNown, treasurer. Bonicelli appointed Nick Melisovich as master at arms, and Bill Alexander as historian.

The fraternity's activities are to begin this year with a dance to be held soon.

Daily Californian, Oct. 14.—The search is on! Coach Nibs Price and staff will need a lot of new talent to come anywhere near equalling the record of last year's Southern Division PCC championship basketball team. They hope to find it among the men who will sign today in Wheeler hall. Gone from last year's team is most of the first string and a good portion of the reserve.

Towel Shortage Threatens SJS

Due to a shortage of roll towels, Byron Bollinger, supervisor of buildings, urges students to avoid unnecessary use and waste of towels.

In the meantime, if the towels run out completely, flat towels will replace the roll type.

A salesman from the Blake, Moffitt and Towne distributors of San Jose informed Mr. Bollinger that shortage was caused by flood waters damaging the manufacturing equipment at the main plant in Longview, Washington.

"Abide by me for about two weeks," Mr. Bollinger said, "and we hope to have the regular towels again."

Endurance Fliers Have Competition

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Oct. 21 (UP)—Two fliers droned over the desert today, nearing the end of the second day of their contemplated six-week stay aloft for a world's endurance record.

Fliers Dick Riedel and Bill Baris circled around this area until weather conditions improved at Fullerton, Cal., from where they took off late Tuesday. They hope to stay up at least 1000 hours to beat a record of 726 hours set in 1939.

The California pilots had competition from two Dallas, Texas, fliers, Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons, who took off from Dallas last night with the object of staying up 1500 hours.
